

ASSUME RESPONSIBILITIES . . . Torrance Chapter, City of Hope, installed new officers at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ella Schwartz on Monday. They are from left, Mmes. Sol Young, publicity chairman, Bert Lynn, treasurer Norman Sparber, corresponding secretary; Wallace Howe, president; Grace Bryson, installing officer and representative of the City of Hope; Millie West, past president; Herman Weston, recording secretary; Jerome Scharfman and Mitchell Markow, vice presidents. The group declared June 5 as "Hope Sunday" and the Merchants Drive will be held June 6.

Committee Will Install On May 16

The Peninsula Committee of the Spastic Children's League will hold a luncheon May 16 at the home of Mrs. Richard Bredson, 3625 Via Palomino, Palos Verdes Estates. The event is in honor of the new board of officers for the next year.

At that time, Mrs. Hal Gregory, the current president will turn over her duties to Mrs. Charles Cox, the incoming president, whose board will be Mrs. Gerald Honey, first vice president; Mrs. Paul Howse, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Holmes, third vice president; Mrs. James Lafferty, fourth vice president; Mrs. James Farrell, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Blee, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. George Schuler, treasurer.

At this meeting, the Peninsula Committee will also welcome the new members of the group who are Mrs. John Cunningham, Mrs. Richard Loughrin, and Mrs. George Partridge.

TO SAN FRANCISCO . . . These members of Court St. Catherine, Catholic Daughters of America, visit Nativity Church before they leave for the 19th biennial convention of CDA in session today through Sunday at the Mark Hopkins Hotel. They are from left, Mmes. Laurence Derouin, Don Bryant, Don Cowden, Richard Ban and Louis Derouin. 129 courts in the state will send delegates representing 16,000 women affiliated with the largest Catholic Women's organization in America.

YOUR PROBLEMS

by Ann Landers

"I'm For Getting People in Chairs"

Dear Ann Landers: I have a nice home and rent out two sleeping rooms to a couple of office girls, both 19. They are attractive young ladies and I want them to feel at home with me, so I encourage them to invite their men friends in to visit.

I have a library as well as a living room so they entertain separately. However, they both behave the same way with their guests. They invariably wind up lying on the floor or stretched out on the couch. They say they're tired after a day's work and need to relax. I say the boys are only human and they're borrowing trouble.

To put it bluntly, if young girls aren't physically able to sit up like ladies they should postpone dating until their health improves. Right?—OLD DODO

Dear Dodo: You and I both know there's nothing wrong with their health.

Today there seems to be a good bit of "informality" in entertaining. The advertisements have promoted the casual air by putting everyone on the floor. It's now fashionable to relax on the floor, listen to music on the floor and enjoy soft drinks while stretched out like a tanned hide.

I agree that horizontal lounging can be provocative and I'm all for getting people back in chairs.

Dear Ann: I'm a widow in my late 50s. I've been dating a widower who is 64.

He takes me to dinner, to movies, plays and social gatherings. I find him good company and very considerate.

Out of the blue he announced he'll never marry again because he's "too old for that." But he tells me I mean a great deal to him and that his life would be empty without me.

I want to get married — if not to him, to someone else. Shall I tell him how I feel and hope it will bring a proposal? Or would it be better to continue to go with him and hope that in time he'll want to marry me on his own?—W.W.

Dear W.W.: A man 64 is "on his own." He's been honest with you so now be honest with him. Tell him you're too old to date just for the heck of it, and that you're interested in a permanent relationship.

Give him a couple of months to make up his mind. If he tells you he's not going to remarry, accept it as the end of a pleasant interlude and make other friends.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are having an argument about something. We have phoned up a few people and have gotten different answers. It may sound like a matter of simple arithmetic, but we want an answer from YOU. Please reply in the paper.

(Continued on Page 14)

MISS NANCY LOU MAXWELL . . . Engagement Announced (Portrait by Seeman)

Nancy Maxwell Will Wed H. L. Maloy in Early Fall

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brenneman, 1702 W. 244th St., Lomita, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Lou Maxwell, to Harrel Lee Maloy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Maloy, 2005 Middlebrook Rd., Torrance.

The bride-elect was graduated from Narbonne High school in 1956 and Harbor Junior college with an AA degree in 1958. She then attended UC at Berkeley for one year and is currently enrolled in a Cosmetology school in Los Angeles from which she will be graduated May 13.

At the University, Miss Maxwell was a member of the Daily Californian staff and the Phi Chi Theta sorority.

The benedict-elect was graduated from Torrance High School in 1952. He was a member of the varsity basketball team and Acapella Choir. He attended El Camino College for one year then went into the Army. During his service, he was stationed in the Ski Patrol in Alaska. Following his discharge from the service he returned to El Camino where he was a member of the Vets Club. He is presently employed at an oil refinery in Wilmington.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Clyde L. Maxwell, United States Navy, who was killed in action in the Philippines during World War II. The wedding will be solemnized on Sept. 10, 1960 at the First Presbyterian Church in San Pedro.

MRS. FRANCES SCOTT . . . Completes 23 Years

Local Girl Takes TWA Training

Miss Sally Louise Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Roberts, 21206 S. Vermont, left Thursday evening by plane for Kansas City where she will take a four-week course to become a TWA Airlines hostess. Miss Roberts was graduated from Banning High school. She then worked for the Telephone company and Northrop Aircraft.

Nursing Director Retires

The staff of the Harbor Hospital said farewell to Mrs. Frances Scott on Friday, May 20, with gifts and well wishes. Mrs. Scott is retiring after 23 years in the Department of Charities of Los Angeles County. She is the first Nursing Director of Harbor, having transferred from the Los Angeles County Hospital in Los Angeles when the local hospital opened in 1946.

Mrs. Scott is a graduate of Immaculate Heart College of Hollywood and an Illinois School of Nursing. She has been active in nursing organizations as well as in local civic groups. During her years of service, she was instrumental in affiliating the hospital with the UCLA School of Nursing, until the Medical Center was able to provide the necessary experience of the professional nursing students. Other teaching programs, now in effect at Harbor Hospital through her efforts are the professional nursing course at Orange Coast College and the Vocational nursing course at Harbor College. The Volunteer Service and the first Candy Stripper program in the western states were organized and directed under her guidance.

Mrs. Scott, who lives in the Rolling Hills Riviera, has spent many vacations traveling and hopes to do more but, at present, has no definite plans except to accustom herself to retirement from an active professional life.

To Florida

Mrs. Effie Willis, 2721 Gramercy Ave., left Sunday for Florida where she will spend the summer months visiting with relatives.

Roger Wagner Will Direct Marymount Choir Festival

For the third consecutive year, Marymount College will serve as the host for the Intercollegiate Liturgical Festival of Choirs, scheduled for Sunday, May 15, at 3 p.m. in Cantwell Hall on the Westwood campus.

Roger Wagner, head of the Marymount music department, is director of the annual event, with Rev. John Cremins of the Los Angeles archdiocese as musical advisor. Choirs from Mount St. Mary's College, Loyola University, Immaculate Heart and Marymount Colleges will take part.

The Mount St. Mary's choir, directed by Paul Salamunovich, will offer "Ave Maria" by Kodaly and "Now is the Month of May" by Morley. "Jardin d'Amour" by Vene and "Adoramus Te" by Di Lasso are the Marymount selections.

Directed by William Hollenbeck, the Loyola chorists will sing "O Bone Jesu" by Snyder, "Cantate Domino" by Has-

Reception Sunday At Clubhouse

A reception will be held Sunday afternoon, May 15, from 2 until 4 p.m. at the Torrance Woman's club, 1422 Engracia Ave., honoring Betty Maxwell, local artist.

Mrs. Maxwell is exhibit chairman of the South Bay Community Arts Assn. and a member of the Torrance Art Group.

The public is invited to attend the reception and exhibit.

Mrs. Howard Altermatt, art chairman of the Torrance Woman's club, will serve as hostess.

A B&PW AFFAIR . . . Torrance Business and Professional Women's club will hold a fashion and hair styling show at their May 16 meeting at Spaw's Beauty Salon. Aileen Moore will supervise the fashion show. Selecting a new fashion to be shown are from left, Mmes. Ralph Moore, Bess Tufts and Henry Burke. Chairman Betty Massie has on her committee Olivia Jones, Fran Draie and Bess Tufts. Tickets are now on sale.

Alum Meeting On Wednesday

May meeting of Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae of the South Bay will be held on Wednesday, May 11, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Lucerne Hamer will be hostess to sorority sisters in her home at 302 Calle de Arboles, Hollywood Riviera.

Mrs. Ann Clark will be co-

Visit Daughter

hostess at the meeting after which a social evening of bridge is planned.

For any information regarding meetings, held regularly on the second Wednesday in each month, Sally Mosses may be called.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stavert attended a dinner party on Mother's Day at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Harrington and family in Huntington Beach. Another guest was Mr. Harrington's mother, Mrs. Madeleine Harrington of Bel Air.

FOR MILADY OF ALL AGES . . . When the Women of St. Andrew's stage their annual fashion show this evening at the YWCA, 2320 W. Carson St. new fashions for the young as well as adults will be paraded. A peek at what guests will see this evening includes Mrs. Alan Moore, left, Mrs. Gerald Billings and Wendy Wright in new costumes. For tickets, Mrs. Alan Moore or Mrs. A. Krauszer may be called.